William McGuire, a catcher from Chicopee Falls, Mass., is the latest to send in his contract for a place on the Norwich team, and will be in the squad that reports here Monday, May 2, to begin the tryout season. This backstop has a record that entities him to consideration, having made a strong shewing in the fastest semi-professional baseball of the Bay state.

Norwich also has the promise of two fast infielders in Shaw and Rhylander, who have been trying out with the Providence Eastern league team, so that if the roster of the local teaam were called at present it would look something like this:

CLOSE WATCH ON MARKET or Effect of Monday's Action of Su-

New York, April 12.—The action of the stock market today was watched with curlosity and some anxiety for indications of the wider effects of yesterday's action of the supreme court and the effect it will have in delaying the final settlement of the anti-trust cases. Definite conclusions were not arrived at by close observers of the market, but enough occurred to modify the first enthusiasm of the more strictly professional element of stock operators yesterday. It was evident, for instance, that the violent rise in prices yesterday had brought into the market large selling orders both for home and foreign account. Side by side with these was an influx of further buying orders. The latter were believed to be largely for short account, including much of the buying through commission houses, the bears having become alarmed over the sudden rise of prices yesterday. It became further manifest that the new business thus invited was pretty well cleared up by the noon hour, without marked effect on the net price level. The influence of the new position of the anti-trust cases in reviving animation in the speculation was thus disappointing to those who had counted on an immediate expansion in the evaluings to the volume of past active periods in the speculation.

Coaches decided this spring to go out the championship on the base lines.

The varsity candidates were taken to the gymnasium and told to learn how to slide. Men who went into the base in a heap were coached to offer a smaller target to the baseman had to throw the body away from the guardian.

The object sought by the coaches is to give the baseman the similiest possible mark to put the ball upon, and they are firm in their belief that many a game will be won in this manner this season.

Collins and Green of Providence Team Remembered by Admirers-Boston

Boston, April 12.—Heavy batting by the locals in the first two innings of the locals in the first two innings of the game today between the Boston Nationals and Providence Eastern league team practically clinched the game, the final score being 3 to 1 in Boston's favor. James J. Collins, formerly manager of the Boston American world's championship nine and now leader of the Providence team, made his first appearance on the South End grounds in ten years, He was presented a floral offering by admirers. Green, one of the visitors' pitchers, also received a gift in the form of a gold watch and chain. Score by innings:

son from Ty Cobb.

The influence of Ty Cobb is making itself felt in baseball and when the Flying Georgian is sitting upon the front porch at Royston with his grand-children about him, he can tell stories of the days when he helped revolutionize the national game. At the University of Pennsylvania, baseball coachers are teaching the varsity players the art of sliding properly. You'd think when a boy had been playing ball long enough to make the varsity he would know how to slide, but, as a matter of fact, the number of high class men in the professional game who slide properly is lamentably small.

There are hundreds of ball players

There is so much discussion going on over the big fight that many arguments have sprung up. Here are some pointers that must be taken into consideration and will settle a good many arguments, says a Cincinnati writer. If the referee stops the fight to prevent one man being badly beaten or the seconds throw up the sponge, it counts as a knockout. If a man bets that the contest will go a certain number of rounds—say fen rounds—and there is a knockout in the tenth round, the bet is lost, as the round is not a full round until the three minutes are up. Neither man will weigh in, so there is no way to decide bets on their weight. The referee has hot been selected nor will he be for some time. Jack Welsh and Eddie Smith are the favorites, according to gossip, but not according to the officials of the club, who say no one has even been mentioned yet. The fight will be held at the Oakland race track, at Emeryville, CN, across the bay from Trisco, at two o'clock on the afternoon of July 4. The arena will be located in the center field of the track. The contest is scheduled for 45 rounds.

J. J. McGrath of Mystic, winner last year in the Waterbury state pool tournament, disposed of the Milbury Kid, 150 to 140 points, in a pool game played in a West Thames street salone before a good sized crowd. The game was the third and deciding one between the two men, as each had one to his credit, and there was some lively betting on the result.

The Milbury Kid led McGrath by 14 balls at the 160 point, but from then on Mac began to pick them up fast by a great exhibition of careful and skilful play, finally winning out by reaching Boston, April 12.—Frank Klaus of Pittsburg, Pa., won a decisive victory over Jimmy Gardner of Lowell in 12 rounds at the Armory Athletic association tonight.

The opening match was a hard eight rounds between Kid Goodman of Boston and Frank Madole of Pittsburg, the latter having the best of it all through.

Ford Does Some Classing Pitching.
New York, April 12.—The New York Americans vanquished the Utica team of the New York state league today by a score of 9 to 2. The pitching of Ford, who struck out nine of the visitors in six innings, and the hitting of the locals were the features. Warhop's passes and Roach's errors were responsible for both of Utica's runs.

Dominie Raps Ty Cobb.

An Atlanta minister preached a sermon on baseball recently and he panned Ty Cobb and professional ball players to a fare-you-well. Among other things he said: "Ty Cobb is the biggest man in Georgia today. It's a fact, a shameful fact, Really, I feel like 'cussing' when I think of the domage the people pay to a man whose only contribution to society is his ability to hit a ball and to run from one base to another."

varsity he would know how to silde, but, as a matter of fact, the number of high class men in the professional game who silde properly is lamentably small.

There are hundreds of ball players who can pilfer a large number of bases every season. They are fast on their feet and manage to clude the man at second and third often enough to be regarded dangerous when they reach first. But 30 per cent. of them would be more dangerous if they really knew how to silde.

Ty Cobb knews how. He proved this to men who had been in the game more years than he could boast of having lived. When Ty began slipping around the base lines he gave tradition a punch and made precedent look like a two pot.

Men began to talk about the "Georgia Peach," and baseball critics picked him to write yarms about. Between his terrine hitting and wonderful base running, Cobb became a marked man. It's a funny thing about baseball. Managers soldom copy the good things they see. For instance, Cobb has been getting away with his perfect sliding for three or four years, yet only here are no disturbing elements near the site for the proposed camp is remained for the University of Fenasylvania to fall in line. COUNSEL HARTRIDGE'S CLAIM IS IN HANDS OF JURY Sealed Verdict Ordered to Be Returned This Morning.

New York, April 12.—Clifford W. Hartridge's claim of $82,000 against Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, which he says is due him for services and expenses in the defense of her son. Hartry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, is in the hands of the jruy, which has been ordered to return a scaled verdict tomorrow morning. The lawhas been ordered to return a sealed verdict tomorrow morning. The lawyer has already been paid $22,000, but he claims $92,000 more, with interest, making his fee in all about $125,000. Judge Holt, in charging the jury this afternoon, took up the matter of Hartridge's payments to women in the Tenderloin in order to smooth out stories concerning Thaw. "The plaintiff claims that he saw different women every night." said the court. "Whether such a claim on its face is highly improper is for you gentlemen to say. If you find that the plaintiff has padded his expenses, then you are to reject all of his testimony in this connection. These charges are extraordinary and if bribery was the object, to keep witnesses from testifying, it was liegal, and makes it an offense in that it tends corruptly to obstruct the course of justice.

"Even if Harry K. Thaw knew all obstruct the course of justice.

"Even if Harry K. Thaw knew all about these expenditures, it does not make his mother responsible for them unless it has been shown that she knew about and ratified such expenditures;"

Shooting in New York's Chinatown— Victim Mistaken for Another Tong

New York, April 12.—There was another shooting in Chinatown tonight. The victim this time was Foong Hong, 55 years old, a laundryman. He was leaving his room when another Chinaman fired three shots at him. The bullet hif him in the left side, making a painful if not fatal wound. The assaliant escaped. Foong Hong was not a Tong man, but probably was mistaken for a member and shot down in a continuance of the feud in which two Chinamen were killed Sunday.
